MRS. STINNETT SEEKS DIVORCE
Asking the custody of six minor children and property valued at $2,184, Mrs. Sallie Stinnett has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Charles Eugene Stinnett, who was committed to the penitentiary at the last term of circuit court here. The couple was married on October 26, 1890, in Tennessee, and for several years have been residents of Polk county. In the complaint filed by her attorney, Oscar Hayter, Mrs. Stinnett repeats the allegations which were responsible for the conviction of her husband in his recent trial, and his sentence of from six months to 10 years in the penitentiary. —Dallas Observer.

"I think so; she hasn't gored under yet."

HERE IS THE LAW THE SHIPPERS OBJECT TO

To the Layman It Shows
Nothing But That Seems Reasonable Enough

(By United Press staff correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Here is just what the new LaFollette seamen's act provides for owners, sailors and public, with the commerce department's rulings on certain sections of the law incorporated.

Section 1 compels a ship captain, short-handed during a voyage to fill vacancies with men of the same or higher rating before proceeding. Section 2 makes nine hours a day's work in port. Section 3 provides that for every day's delay in collecting his wages, a man gets double pay.

Section 4 provides that in any port a sailor on any ship may collect half his pay or complain to U. S. officers and get full pay and the right to quit.

Section 5 rules that a majority of the common crew may have the ship examined for seaworthiness, or its supplies for quality, by U. S. agents. Section 6 bids goodby to the forecabin of fiction. There must be a berth for each man in a clean room drained and ventilated and with shower bath. There must be ship's hospital.

When a sailor quits, says Section 7, he cannot be imprisoned or forced to work. For insubordination he may be placed in irons and for assaulting an officer imprisoned two days.

Section 9 prohibits flogging sailors. If the master of a vessel fails to deliver such an offender, he and the vessel owners are liable for damages. Section 10 gives two ounces of butter and five quarts of water to each sailor, daily.

Section 11 prohibits sailors assigning wages to employment offices or saloons. Wages can be assigned only to near relatives. Section 12 prohibits garnishment of wages except by courts acting for near relatives.

Section 13 requires 75 per cent of each crew to understand officers' orders; but orders in all they need understand. Forty per cent of the crew must be able seamen. This will gradually rise to 65 per cent in 1920. An able seaman must have had three years' service on the seas or great lakes.

Each lifeboat shall be in charge of an able seaman. Ships more than 20 miles from shore must have lifeboats and lifeboats for all, except from May 15 to September 15, when there must be boats and rafts for 70 per cent. On the great lakes, boats for 20 per cent and rafts for 30 per cent are required. Section 15 requires any barge losing a passenger or sailor to report it.

Section 16 and 17 give foreign sailors the right to quit foreign ships in U. S. harbors. All treaties requiring U. S. officers to hunt such deserters are abrogated by Section 8. Section 19 provides that a sailor ill away from home, as to be cared for by a U. S. consul.

STATE NEWS

Roseburg Review: The white deer of the West Fork country, which has been seen in several years only by a few hunters at rare intervals, has been killed. The white deer is a freak of the deer family and very seldom is one found in existence. So far as known, this was the only one in the state. The white deer which roamed the mountains about West Fork for so long, and always immune from the hunters' wiles, had its career ended last week by Dick Bounds, who lives at Clark's Branch, near Myrtle Creek. Mr. Bounds was hunting in the vicinity of West Fork for several days when he finally sighted the beautiful snow white animal and knew immediately what it was. The deer is said to have a beautiful hide and it will probably be given a skilful preparation with a view of preserving it.

SPRING VALLEY NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Spring Valley, Ore., Nov. 12.—Mrs. J. Fred Purvine entertained pleasantly at dinner Monday evening in honor of the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Henry. Tiny keepies united with a wedding ring marked the place of each guest, and the dancing bears and tin whistles used as favors created much merriment. Covers were laid for twelve, those present being Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harvey Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Purvine.

Miss Helen Baker was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening when a party of young people gathered to spend the evening, and to bid farewell to Miss Helen, who left Wednesday morning for Portland, to attend high school.

L. E. Bradford was the victim of a surprise party on Monday night, the occasion being his birthday. An oyster supper was served, after which the evening was spent in enjoyable social pastimes.

A number of the Spring Valley young people attended the Jomelli concert in Salem last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davis were Salem shoppers on Saturday.

Mrs. W. T. Scott was called to Portland last Thursday by the serious illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Scott, and little Mary Scott. They have not yet sufficiently recovered for her to return home.

A baby boy was born Saturday, October 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Worthington, at Eaglecrest Orchards.

Rev. Replough, who conducted a series of meetings here several weeks ago, preached at the church on Sunday morning, the theme being "The Resurrection Day."

Ralph Scott delivered a load of fat hogs Monday, to Mr. Farmer, at McCoy.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Henry departed for the exposition Wednesday. They will stay in Elson only a short time, later going to Los Angeles to spend the winter with their son, Clyde and family. George Derrick will have charge of the farm during their absence.

Frances McKinlay is spending several weeks in San Francisco at the exposition. He expects to remain until after Thanksgiving, spending that holiday in Portland.

Ray Nasa is away for several weeks, on a business trip to Lake county.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Henry were Salem visitors, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, and two children, Willard and Le Roy, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crawford.

The condition of the Polk-Marion county steel bridge caused no little inconvenience to the residents of this section of Polk county, to whom Salem is necessarily the market town. We are sometimes compelled to hold over stock at a loss, on account of not being able to cross the bridge, and sometimes feel a shortage of supplies. Now that the bridge is re-opened, on condition that the wind doesn't blow, we never can feel certain that the wind won't come up and leave us in Salem to spend the night with stock unfed and other chores undone. Really, it's a topic worthy of the "funnies" and in spite of all the trouble it causes us, we can't help seeing the funny side of it. "If the wind doesn't blow, we can go; if the wind does blow, we can stay at home."
